

Coleman Technologies, Inc. Joins Forces With and Becomes Part of Presidio, Inc.

Deal brings broadened capabilities, new service offerings, expanded geographic footprint

Greenbelt, MD – Jan. 6, 2010 – Presidio, Inc., a diversified professional and managed services firm delivering advanced IT infrastructure solutions, announced today that Coleman Technologies, Inc. has merged with and into Presidio, Inc. Coleman, based in Orlando, FL, is a leading edge IT and systems engineering services firm and will complement Presidio's existing business lines, including: Presidio Networked Solutions, a professional services and advanced IT infrastructure solutions provider; Presidio Managed Networks, a Managed Services and Telecom Consulting firm; Atlantix Global, a provider of remarketed technology solutions; and Presidio Technology Capital, a captive leasing operation.

This combination brings an exciting new dynamic to Presidio's already vibrant Virtualization/Data Center; Collaboration/Unified Communications; Mobility; Security and Managed Services practices. Coleman further expands Presidio's extensive team that has been purposely built to focus on providing innovative advanced IT infrastructure solutions for the complete IT Lifecycle. The result is a company with unmatched strength in customer service and support, technical acumen and financial viability.

Coleman brings a complementary and expanded geographic reach, solidifying Presidio's market presence in Florida, Georgia, Oklahoma and the Public Sector, while accelerating a more expansionary footprint throughout Texas, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Alabama, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana. The merger also significantly strengthens Presidio's current capabilities in Contact Center and Managed Services. Additionally, Coleman holds several unique capabilities in their Federal Systems and Electronic Systems groups with solutions ranging from hardened communications devices (EnviroXtreme), to mobile communications solutions (RAPTOR) and covert GPS tracking devices (AGenT), that leverage their product development and software design skills and solutions.

Joel Schleicher, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Presidio, Inc., stated, "We are ecstatic with this combination due to Coleman's stellar reputation, unique approach to the market, and culture. We view the Coleman team as the perfect complement to Presidio. There are few companies that offer the engineering/implementation excellence, customer satisfaction approach and are as forward thinking, from a standpoint of utilizing technology as a productivity enhancement tool for their customers, as Coleman.”

Highlights of the merged company include:

- Revenue of over $1.1B, making it the leading solutions provider in its markets
- 70 Cisco CCIEs and over 1,800 technology certifications
- 530+ highly certified engineering and consulting professionals among our 1,200 employees, delivering unequalled levels of engineering expertise
